ALFRED Choral DESIGNS

GENERAL CONCERT & CONTEST

Singers, Arise!

Words and music by Victor C. Johnson

A triumphant unison fanfare sounds a clarion call in praise of music at the start of this concert/contest opener, followed by a contemplative, chant-like middle section on a brief Latin text. An accelerating return to the jubilant main theme leads to a majestic and satisfying conclusion. Be sure to add the optional trumpet part for full effect.

I Will Sing You the Stars

Words and music by Mark Burrows

"You are not alone, love will call you home." A theme of love and connection lies at the heart of this stunning piece with words written from father to daughter on the occasion of her graduation. The expressive vocal lines and warm choral harmonies perfectly embody the sincerity of the lyrics. An irresistible, expressive gem in any voicing.

Plaudite Manibus

(Clap Your Hands)

Words and music by Sally K. Albrecht

Sung on a combination of Latin and English words and punctuated by the clapping of hands, this rhythmic a cappella stunner is both stimulating and musically satisfying. Open fifths underpin a modal theme, which leads to a layered add-on section. The final cadence boasts a dazzling array of stacked chords.

■ SATB, a cappella (00-47549) .....	$2.05
-------------------------------------	--------

Nightingale

Words and music by Jay Althouse

A hushed a cappella opening in rich harmony immediately captures the ear. The flowing piano joins just before two brief optional solos introduce the beloved nightingale and her tuneful melody. Expressive singing and vocal artistry are encouraged by the gentle ebb and flow of tempo.

Topsy-Turvy World

Words by William Brighty Rands, music by Christopher Fox

This fanciful children's poem by William Brighty Rands is simply charming. Well-constructed for 2-part voices, this accomplished setting includes crisp rhythms and complementary counterlines that offer opportunities to work important elements of choral artistry. The whimsical words include blunders like, "If the pony rode his master, if the buttercup ate the cow ... the world would be upside down!"

■ 2-Part (00-47681) .....	$2.05
PianoTrax 11 (00-47188) .....	$44.99

Benedictus

By Ruth Morris Gray

A bombastic and stately theme, based on stacked modal harmonies, gives a triumphant air to this contemporary setting of the traditional Latin text. Hushed B and C sections offer contrast before recapitulating the grandiose opening and an even fuller final cadence. Timpani, tubular bells, and triangle (which may be downloaded for free) may be performed by a single percussionist and add to the riveting drama.

Let the Song Begin

Words and music by Donald Moore

The ultimate original madrigal for any choir. Independent vocal lines, terraced dynamics, and a joyful "music" text create an ideal teaching piece that works well as a concert opener or an a cappella feature.

■ SATB, a cappella (00-47535) NEW! .....	$2.05
■ 3-Part Mixed / SAB, a cappella (00-27840) .....	$2.05
■ SSA, a cappella (00-27841) .....	$2.25

Calico Cat

Words and music by Andy Beck

"Black as the midnight, and white as the snow; gold as the sunshine, my cat of calico." A bouncy and buoyant melody is supported by a folk-song-style piano accompaniment and some easy-to-sing harmonic patterns in this truly charming 2-part original by Andy Beck. Singers won't be able to get enough of the tongue-twisting patter text as they tell the tale of the whimsically colorful cat. Directors can take special pride in teaching the optional cue notes and accented descant that adds a fluffy coat near the end.

In the Pretty Springtime

Words by William Shakespeare and Thomas Morley, music by Michael Larkin

Featuring text by William Shakespeare and references to Thomas Morley's madrigal "Now Is the Month of Maying," this playful contemporary choral celebrates young love with sparkling vocal counterpoint. A satisfying yet supportive piano part and some delightful vocal interplay provide many moments of challenge and interest. Fitting for concert or contest.

■ SATB (00-47596).....	$2.05
PianoTrax 11 (00-47188).....	$44.99

Gifts

Words by Sara Teasdale, music and additional words by Victor C. Johnson

Sara Teasdale's poignant commentary on the challenges and rewards of love is the foundation of this sensitive choral setting. Strong homophonic writing puts a focus on the words, while scattered harmonic suspensions and gentle ebbs and flows of tempo invite a deep understanding of the text. "These are the gifts of love."

Jack and Jill

Words based on the Traditional Nursery Rhyme, music and additional words by Katie O'Connor-Ballantyne

What would happen if Jack and Jill didn't give up on their quest to fetch a pail of water? This clever setting of the traditional nursery rhyme harbors a positive message on the value of perseverance and cooperation. Text painting, mode changes, and invigorating rhythms bring the storybook words to life.

O Say, Can You See

Words by Francis Scott Key, music by Ruth Morris Gray

Program this moving patriotic piece to celebrate our country at any time of year. An all-new original melody and a shimmering accompaniment beautifully highlight Francis Scott Key's words from "The Star-Spangled Banner." Toward the end, a lush musical quote from the national anthem blossoms into a final glorious refrain, a soaring penultimate cadence, and one last introspective accolade for "the brave!"

Canticum Novum

Words and music by Andy Beck

Designed for impact in performance without stress in rehearsal, this strong concert/contest opener (or closer) features an accessible Latin text that alternates with English lyrics. A bold unison, sung in sweet-spot vocal ranges, leads to an antiphonal treatment of the marcato theme. A softer section, in three-part counterpoint, provides contrast before returning to the original melody. This celebratory piece works on any program, at any time of year, and provides wonderful lessons for developing choral singers.

Beyond

Words by John Parker, music by Vicki Tucker Courtney

Expressive choral writing anchors this poetic text that describes the bonds of attachment between people who care for one another. The optional opening solo offers an opportunity to feature a standout singer, but the highlight of the piece comes when the entire choir delivers a sincere message of enduring love in resonant three-part harmony.

Cuppa Cappuccino

Words and music by Andy Beck

A solid introduction to jazz stylizations and beginning scat singing! From the swingin' echoed phrases of the catchy chorus to the tasty "with extra foam" ending, this creative chart is equal parts education and enjoyment. Extend the learning by taking Andy's suggestion for improvisation by "trading bars" just before a return to the top. Frothy fun for caffeine lovers of any age!

Choosing Choral Repertoire: 6 Ingredients for a Well-Balanced Program

By Krista Hart

As a music educator, you have a responsibility to ensure that your choir is being fed musically. You've got to build them up with a steady diet of "meat and potatoes" literature—music that is full of things that are good for them, like developing musicality, expanding their musical vocabulary, and performing music with a historical context. But every great meal also includes dessert, so be sure to serve up an experience that students will feel is a "treat." Just as filling up your plate with sugary, low-nutritional value foods won't produce a strong body, loading your program with the same kind of music won't produce strong and long-lasting musicians.

Visit alfred.com/6ingredients to read more about choosing choral literature.

If I Can Sing

Words by Sara Teasdale, music by Lon Beery

"If I can sing, I still am free." Sara Teasdale's 1917 poem "Refuge" is certain to resonate with anyone who possesses an appreciation for singing. This lush setting plays out across a shifting palette of harmonic colors and choral textures, and is offered in wonderfully adaptable alternate voicings that address the needs of choirs at any level.

Adoramus Te

By Andy Beck

This simple yet elegant setting is sung on just two short Latin phrases. A partner song approach gives each voice part independence, while a brief B section includes some homophonic choral harmonies. Halfway through the piece, a delicate descant-like third part is introduced and floats gently above when the lyrical theme and counter theme return. Excellent concert or contest repertoire for developing groups.

The Moon Has a Face

Words by Robert Louis Stevenson, music and additional words by Glenda E. Franklin. Excerpts from Robert Louis Stevenson's poem "The Moon" combine with original text to create a mysterious and enchanting selection for young voices. Accessible two-part writing is ideal for choirs new to singing harmony. The haunting minor-mode and hushed dynamics are equally important to teach and captivating to hear.

The Star-Spangled Banner

Words by Francis Scott Key, music by John Stafford Smith / arr. Connor Smith and Desmond Clark

Here's a fresh arrangement of the national anthem that is spot on for contemporary a cappella singers! A cool combination of the traditional and the creative, this unique setting is sure to inspire and impress. Perform at concerts, assemblies, games, and events. Scattered divisi in all voice parts sharpens the fresh sonorities.

Star Canon

Pachelbel's "Canon in D"

Words from a Traditional Nursery Rhyme / arr., with new music and additional words, by David Waggoner

A simple yet elegant adaptation of Pachelbel's "Canon in D," this arrangement introduces a new melody that beautifully complements the beloved original. Incorporates twinkling text from the nursery rhyme "Star light, star bright" as well as some new words about making wishes. A delicate balance of unison and partner-singing makes this an ideal selection for younger groups.

Grant Us Peace

By Bruce W. Tippette

Divisi a cappella writing, with subtle shifts in dynamics and tempo, invites singers to new heights of artistry in this serene setting of "Dona nobis pacem" and its equivalent English words. Cluster chords, soaring melodies, expressive nuances, and rhapsodic phrases emerge from what begins and ends in utter tranquility. Destined to become a staple of the choral repertoire.

SPIRITUALS

Great, Gettin' Up Day!

Great Day • In That Great Gettin' Up Mornin' • My Lord, What a Mornin'
Traditional Spirituals / arr. Sally K. Albrecht

Here's a rousing mini-medley of three favorite spirituals in less than three minutes! A grand choral fanfare gives way to a jubilant tour through "Great Day," "In That Great Gettin' Up Mornin'," and "My Lord, What a Mornin'"—including some mingling of themes at the end. Strong part-writing makes individual lines straightforward, and a full range of dynamics creates excitement.

Open the Window, Noah

(Inspired by a Traditional Spiritual)

Words and music by Jay Althouse

Inspired by the much-revered spiritual tradition, this original a cappella piece recounts the biblical story of the Great Flood. On its third attempt, Noah's dove returned with an olive branch, signaling the discovery of dry land. Flexible call-and-response solos are accompanied by a humming choir in the verses, and a jubilant refrain becomes even more thrilling when a treble trio joins at the end!

Parable

(with "Amazing Grace")

Words and music by Andy Beck

This original song, written in the style of a gospel spiritual, incorporates universal themes of hope, change, humankind, and peace. An earnest text delivers an important message about the past, present, and future of social justice. Alternating pronouns and symbolic vocabulary allow for interpretation and invite discussion. Traditional "Amazing Grace" is a profound highlight in the middle of this one of a kind, standout selection.

Ezekiel Saw the Wheel

Traditional Spiritual / arr. Greg Gilpin

Greg's rhythmic reimagining is just plain fun! An original countermelody is introduced, then layered with some complementary counterpoint, creating a great deal of excitement before the much-anticipated arrival of the familiar traditional spiritual. It's a truly playful and innovative arrangement that two- and three-part groups will adore. "Hey, Zeke!"

MASTERWORKS

Sanctus

Music by Franz Schubert / ed. and arr. Patrick M. Liebergen

A warm adagio introduction breaks into a joyous "Hosanna" chorus in this 44-measure homophonic masterwork. Taken from Schubert's Mass No. 4, this edition offers sensible vocal ranges, editorial dynamic and metronome markings, plus a complete IPA guide for the brief Latin text. The orchestral parts have been reduced to a playable piano accompaniment while preserving the Classical characteristics of the original work.

Veni Jesu

Music by Luigi Cherubini / arr. Russell Robinson

Cherubini's 18th-century composition has become one of the most recorded and performed masterworks of our time. Dr. Robinson's well-conceived arrangement can be performed either a cappella or with the supportive piano accompaniment, providing flexibility for concert or contest programming. An accessible Latin text (with just four words in total) and sensible voice leading make this an ideal choice for developing choirs.

I Ku Mau Mau

(Stand Up Together)

Words from a Traditional Hawaiian Chant, music by Ruth Morris Gray

This traditional Hawaiian chant was used when master canoe builders called for people to bring trees down from the mountains to the ocean side so that canoes could be built. Now set to music, the words teach us to stand up together and work as a team. An upbeat hook, a spoken word section, and a contrasting countermelody combine at the end to create the ultimate multicultural experience. Download the digital ChoreoTrax for even more fun!

Two Asian Folk Songs

1. Flower Drum Song

2. High Green Mountain

Arr., with English words, by Ruth Morris Gray

Perform this pair of authentic Asian folk songs separately or as a world music set. Singers will embrace imitating percussion instruments in the Chinese "Flower Drum Song," and adore echoing the lyrical pentatonic tune of "High Green Mountain" from Taiwan. Evolving ostinatos create the sense of accompaniment within the context of both a cappella settings. Pronunciation guides are included, making it easy to sing in the original language, in English, or a combination of both.

The Water Is Wide

American Folk Song / arr. Greg Gilpin

Greg suggests performing his moody setting of the enduring folk song "with longing and mystery"—a fitting approach for this creative re-harmonization. A hushed layering of the first four melodic notes provides the gentle introduction and pensive closing for this uniquely wistful arrangement. Rich choral sonorities, with just a touch of dissonance, emerge when the piece arrives at its "love is handsome" peak.

HOLIDAY / SEASONAL

The 12 Days of Christmas

Traditional Carol / arr. Russell Robinson

Alternating  $\frac{3}{4}$  and  $\frac{6}{8}$  time signatures are a fresh and fabulous twist for this holiday classic. You (and your audience) will be both surprised and delighted! Several brief character solos offer lots of low-pressure opportunities to stand out, and the additive form of the traditional carol makes the piece come together quickly.

Looking for the Light

(A Song of Winter)

Words by Jerry Colker, music and additional words by Adam Podd and Matt Podd

The shimmering winter-themed text and lilting  $\frac{6}{8}$  rhythms dance right off the page in this contemporary choral like none other. Accessible yet unexpected harmonies provide warmth, and a full dynamic range takes us on a journey from a single voice to full ensemble singing. The breathtaking add-on section weaves three independent lines into one radiant tapestry of sound and suggests that the light we search for may be found within.

Hydom, Tiddlydom

Traditional Czech Carol / arr., with new words, by Mark Burrows

The word "hydom" mimics the drone of bagpipes. The word "tiddlydom" represents the rhythm of the drum. This traditional Czech carol onomatopoeically recreates the sounds of these festive instruments with a cappella charm and brilliance. The English text recounts shepherds, angels, Mary, Joseph, and the little child. In the middle, a contrasting legato section lets the beauty of the voices shine before returning to playful choral textures. Simple parts for hand drum and tambourine are included.

Please Come Home for Christmas

Words and music by Charles Brown and Gene Redd / arr. Jay Althouse

In 1960, pianist and singer Charles Brown first recorded this Christmas classic. Since then, the Eagles, Kelly Clarkson, Martina McBride, and Jon Bon Jovi are among the many artists who have covered the blues-infused tune about missing "the one you love" during the holidays. Opens with an optional solo followed by irresistible classic '60s harmonies.

There Is a River

Words based on Psalm 46, music by Jonny Priano

Dramatic divisi choral writing treats Psalm 46 with significance and reverence. A contrasting middle section creates a sense of darkness before unfolding with hopefulness and returning to a gloriously developed A section. Expressive changes of tempo and dynamics provide an invitation for artistic communication between choir, director, and audience. Equally effective in performance or worship.

MUSICALS

Phantom of the Music Room NEW

A Mysterious Musical for 2-Part Voices

By Janet Gardner

Who or what is that shadowy figure playing the piano in the school music room after dark? Several students and Deputy Barney set out to solve this musical mystery with surprising results. Featuring six songs with clever texts set to musical classics by Chopin, Dvořák, Sousa, and others. This Alfred favorite is newly updated with a fresh engraving and a stellar recording! Recommended for grades three and up. Approximately 30 minutes.

Bada Bing, It's Spring!

A Unison Musical for Primary Performers

By Jill Gallina

Spring is just around the corner, but the flowers have yet to bloom. The children are waiting for nice weather, the weeds have popped out of the earth, but the flowers remain steadfastly hidden underground. It takes the clever Dandelion Queen to figure out why, and bring about the first blossoms of the season! This charming, easy-to-stage 15-minute musical is designed specifically for grades K–4. The unison songs, brief rhyming script, creative costume ideas, and simple staging suggestions will make your primary production blossom.

Two for the Show!

A Pair of Mini-Musicals for Young Performers

By Sally K. Albrecht

These charming mini-musicals make a perfect pair for primary-aged students! Both of the traditional folk tales are told with brief unison songs and short scenes (featuring a small cast of characters plus up to 25 narrators). Minimal rehearsal time, few props, creative costume pieces, and a simple set make for no fuss in-class or on-the-stage productions. Whether you present them separately or as a set, your youngest performers will shine as adorable farm animals, fluffy forest creatures, or the territorial "mean and nasty" troll. Approximately 30 minutes when combined. Complete choreography included. Recommended for grades K–4.

Presents on Parade! NEW

A Holiday Mini-Musical for Unison and 2-Part Voices

By Sally K. Albrecht, Jay Althouse, Andy Beck, and Brian Fisher

When the kids learn they could snag a spot in Toyland Department Store's amazing annual parade, they march into action: taking a quick journey "Over the River," experiencing a fabulous "Toyland" welcome, and winning a contest during Victor Herbert's "March of the Toys," all followed by a quick "Deck the Hall" costume change (they step into large gift-wrapped boxes). Before you know it, it's time for the much-anticipated finale! Production notes suggest how to easily extend your closing parade to include the entire school and/or audience. Recognizable holiday songs, a simple script, and creative staging instructions make this festive 20-minute mini-musical a snap. Recommend for grades K–4.

Learning to read music is much like learning a language. There are three basic elements: listening, reading, and writing. This well-organized book provides step-by-step sequential lessons for developing these skills. Rhythm, note, and interval concepts are taught in the following way: first, hear and echo a short musical example; second, read and perform a notated exercise; and third, notate musical phrases as demonstrated on the CD. Reproducible worksheet-style pages are included in the book. Ten-minute activities are provided for teaching or assessment, and are recommended for 4th through 9th grade ensembles or music classes.

Music Symbol Parade

24 Posters Illustrating Musical Terms

These adorable 9" x 12" cardstock posters are more than just a delightful decoration—they're also a fabulous teaching tool! Playful illustrations depict music signs and symbols, while concise definitions clearly explain each term. A tiny mouse represents pianissimo, a lion roars for fortissimo, a snail is largo, and a hammer shows marcato. Dynamics, articulations, tempo headings, clefs, accidentals, and more are also included.

IMPROVISATION & COMPOSITION

Everyday Improvisation

Interactive Lessons for the Music Classroom

By Joan Eckroth-Riley

What a wonderful way to address the National Standards while using your interactive whiteboard! Integrate technology into your classroom with these well-constructed interactive lessons that provide a smooth and easy way to teach improvisation and composition to elementary students (grades 1–4). Each plan starts with a song, chant, or poem; provides prompts for active listening; invites students to improvise as a group and individually; and concludes with a rubric-measured assessment. Kids will have so much fun singing and moving to the songs, playing classroom instruments, and manipulating the cartoon-style graphics on the interactive whiteboard. This interactive resource works on both individual computers and interactive whiteboards, and is PC and Mac compatible.

Everyday Composition

Interactive Lessons for the Music Classroom

By Joan Eckroth-Riley

Expand your elementary curriculum with these beautifully illustrated interactive lessons for your computer or interactive whiteboard. Each lesson plan begins with a song, poem, or story; invites students to improvise as a group and individually using their voices, recorders, xylophones, or percussion instruments; and progresses to a rubric-based composition project. Along the way, students will organically generate, refine, and share their original musical ideas as they expand their artistic decision-making skills. May be used alone or as a follow-up to Everyday Improvisation. This interactive resource works on both individual computers and interactive whiteboards, and is PC and Mac compatible. Recommended for grades 2–5.
