Harmonic Warm-Ups NEW

For Choirs and Vocal Groups

By Tijs Krammer

Does this sound familiar? "I'm bored with the warm-ups. We always sing the same exercises." Yes, many singers regard warm-ups as a monotonous requirement, a trivial exercise, or an unnecessary delay before the actual rehearsal starts. But it doesn't have to be this way! Reinvent your routine with this innovative approach that leads the way to more meaningful and diversified warm-ups. This book is filled with uncomplicated melodies that are quickly learned, and then turned into multiple-part exercises by singing in canon or stacked parallels. An exemplary practice that invites developed groups to focus on higher listening and ensemble skills. Online access to MP3 demos of every exercise is included.

DEVELOPING CHOIRS

The Cambiata Collection NEW

Range-Ready Repertoire
for Developing TTB Choirs

By Lon Beery

The transition from treble to changed voice can be a unique and challenging time for developing male singers. Dr. Lon Beery brings years of expertise as a middle school choral educator and clinician to this collection of eight carefully curated chorals, written specifically to meet the needs of young tenors and basses. Narrow vocal ranges for each voice part allow singers to find success as they navigate the shifting demands of an evolving vocal instrument. Reproducible student pages plus complete demo and accompaniment tracks make The Cambiata Collection an exceptional value!

Middle Voices | TENOR 2

Some boys may experience a voice change in which their range fairly quickly drops an octave. On the other hand, Cooksey pointed out that a large number of middle school boys do not drop an octave, but rather jump downwards by a third or a fifth a octave, tenor-like range. Cooksey calls these voices "Midvoice 2A." Many boys end of sixth grade through the eighth grade, either jump to, or pass to

To distinguish these boys from the first tenors, I refer to them as "2A." Whatever one decides to call them, these boys often make up a large segment in a combined sixth through eighth grade middle school choir to find or write melodies that allow these boys to shine. Cooksey's M of 2A is a good one to consider when selecting pieces for these boys. It is reasonable to make the lowest note an F, rather than F# when as many of these boys can sing higher or lower than this, but there are number of guys for whom this major sixth is their very best range.

It should be noted that this range is also within the one Cooksey gives Baritone voices. This observation was useful to the development of "new" voices. The part 2A was considered a compromise range between Baritone 1A and Baritone 2A. This range is exactly the same as the tenor's 2A. Tenor 2 part. Although some baritone can comfortably sing in this, I discovered a large number of them who are unable to sing in it. It uncomfortable to do so over a period of time.

Sing at First Sight

Foundations in Choral Sight-Singing

By Andy Beck, Karen Farnum Surmani, and Brian Lewis

This well-organized, sequential method clearly introduces new music reading concepts, reinforces those concepts with rhythm and pitch exercises, motivates students with helpful hints and challenge exercises, features choral excerpts at the end of each unit, and provides a comprehensive review and evaluation (including written activities, ear training drills, and formal assessments).

Sing at First Sight ... More Melodies!

Reproducible Exercises for Sight-Singing Practice

By Andy Beck and Brian Lewis

Every melody in this reproducible resource appears in both treble and bass clef, and the Data CD includes digital files of the entire book for printing and projecting. More Melodies! is highly effective when used on a routine basis after each of the sequential lessons, as needed for additional drill to master challenging concepts, or as a general review following the completion of the original textbooks.
