DANCERIES (SET 1)

Hesketh, Kenneth

In Danceries, by Kenneth Hesketh, the melodies themselves are a mixture of old and new. Where the old occurs it has been adapted in mood and composition and is often interspersed with completely new material. The contemporary harmonies and rhythms bring a breath of new into these themes and add drama to the suite.

IDES MARCH

Bermel, Derek

The unique sound-world of Bermel's Ides March is the result of William Brine commissioning a march 'suitable for performance at both a wedding and a funeral'. The resulting sound – which also draws inspiration for its major key to minor key interplay from the Cole Porter line 'how strange the change from major to minor, every time we say goodbye' – is both melancholic and triumphant.

INFERNAL RIDE

Hesketh, Kenneth

Infernal Ride is mercurial and virtuosic, reflecting the mad-cap chase of Ichabod Crane's final ride on his horse, Gunpowder, in the story by Washington Irving, The Legend of Sleepy Hollow. The work closes with flourishes in rapid succession, perhaps with the hapless Ichabod meeting his unfortunate end.

SIR ROGER DE COVERLEY

Bridge, Frank

arr. Wheeler

This elaborate and colourful orchestral version has never been widely performed, but has now been brilliantly transcribed by Alastair Wheeler to provide a miniature dance poem for grade 5 level concert band. Bridge's lively treatment of one of England's most famous traditional dance melodies will make a fitting end to any concert, with the strains of Auld Lang Syne introduced by Bridge as a nod towards Sir Roger de Coverley's traditional function as the final dance of a Christmas Ball, as it was in Old Mr. Fezziwig's party in Dickens' A Christmas Carol.

STEPHENSON'S ROCKET

Hess, Nigel

Commissioned by the North Hertfordshire Wind Band, Stephenson's Rocket is a lively concert overture. Beginning like the opening credits of a Hollywood movie, the sound of the steam engine bursting into life is followed by a forthright tune, full of pomp and ceremony. Then the train begins to move and the music picks up pace.

THE FAIR FIELD OVERTURE

Arnold, Malcolm

The Fair Field Overture, Op. 110, was composed in 1973 to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the Fairfield Halls in Croydon. In this piece, Arnold contrasts a merry-go-round waltz with sinister punctuations from the brass.

THE RINGING ISLE

Dove, Jonathan

Handel called Britain 'the ringing isle' because when he moved to London, he heard bells ringing everywhere. Within The Ringing Isle, Dove incorporates some traditional change-ringing patterns, from Grandsire Doubles, Oxford Treble Bob Minor and his own version of Plain Bob Major.

Duration: 6 minutes	Score	0571566111	9780571566112	£9.99	€13.97	$15.95

THE WINDS OF POWER

Hess, Nigel

The Winds of Power is not a programmatic work, unlike Nigel Hess's other works for wind band. After a dark and menacing opening, a solo trumpet introduces a theme which will eventually become the centre of the piece and is soon heard tutti in a lyrical form.

Duration: 10 minutes	Score	0571561594	9780571561599	£9.99	€13.97	$15.95

THIRTY TO TANGO

Matthews, David

Originally composed in 1990, this tango is the fourth movement from Symphony No. 4 by David Matthews. The tango is the most alluring of contemporary dances, and a number of arrangements of it exist, including ones for solo piano and for various chamber ensembles. Thirty to Tango was arranged by the composer in 1999 for 30 (or more) players.

VRANJANKA

Hesketh, Kenneth

Vranjanka is loosely based on the traditional folksong Šano Dušo. The melody is extant in two versions, one in 7/8 and one in 3/4. Hesketh chose the version in 7/8 and has extended the melodic ideas of the original with new material. The piece begins slowly and the theme is only hinted at. A faster second section follows in a set of variations on the folksong.

WHIRLEGIGG

Hesketh, Kenneth

Whirlegigg is the middle English word for a contraption that continuously spins. A simple ternary structure provides this work with opportunity for both boisterous and reflective material and gyrating accompaniment figures. The ‘machine’ almost stops near the end, but finally musters one last burst of excitement and energy to bring the work to its close.

AMERICAN GAMES

Maw, Nicholas

American Games describes an Englishman’s view of American life – youth and vigour, city and small-town life, sporting events and outdoor parades. It was commissioned by the BBC and first performed on 23rd July 1991 at a BBC Promenade Concert at the Royal Albert Hall, London.

A FESTIVE OVERTURE

Hesketh, Kenneth

This exuberant overture received its world premiere in 2002. The outer sections are busy and colourful, framing an expansive middle section, where Hesketh introduces a typically broad melody.

COOGEE FUNK

Higgins, Gavin

Coogee Funk is a wild and fast paced exploration of funk riffs and rhythms, divided into three core sections. The work opens with a blazing brash fanfare that, after a distant call from an off-stage saxophone quartet, subsides into a drunken nautical seascape. After a series of solos the work charges headlong into a wild funk fugue, coming to a melancholic close by a lonely horn solo.

DER AUFSTAND

Higgins, Gavin

Der Aufstand (German for 'riot') is a noisy antithesis to the celebratory fanfare. It draws on the idea of opposing forces and escalating anger. The work falls into two contrasting sections that are linked by a series of repeated, 'screaming' chords. A slow build drives the first section from a single pitch to a blazing orchestral tutti. The second section is a fast and wild series of fanfares and driving rhythms that ultimately cannot be sustained. Both sections open on single tones (Bb and E) and grow to a climax of brass and hammered chords.

DIAGHILEV DANCES

Hesketh, Kenneth

As a young musician, Hesketh was spellbound by the sounds and colours of the ballet music commissioned for the Ballets Russes company by Serge Diaghilev— the great ballets by Stravinsky, Debussy, Ravel and Prokofiev. Diaghilev Dances is Hesketh's homage to this great legacy, which he describes as 'a miniature ballet consisting of an introduction, three dances and three entr'actes'.

THE GILDED THEATRE

Hesketh, Kenneth

The Gilded Theatre is conceived as one continuous span, with stretches of music subtitled and referring to stock characters or scenarios redolent of the commedia dell'arte or 17th Century French Theatre. The music narrative progresses through dramatic, comedic, romantic and aggressive moods, and throughout the piece the composer has sought to challenge the players both technically and emotionally.
