CHORALS

VOCAL COLLECTIONS & CHORAL RESOURCES

NOW ALL ON ONE DISC FEATURING MP3 FILES!

alfred.com
Dear Choral Director,

I’m always excited (and a bit cautious) when technology moves ahead. This year we’re moving with it, as only one CD is enclosed in this promotion. This is actually a data disc, which includes mp3 recordings of our new choral release. Now you can quickly upload the demo recordings to your computer and then to your iPod or mp3 player. For further information, please see page 6 of this promotion.

We’re also pleased to have a new look for our Choral Designs publications this year. Our new covers feature the same color scheme you’ve come to recognize, but offer more variation in design.

Have a musical year,
Sally K. Albrecht | Director of School Choral & Classroom Publications

Because of the growth of our choral catalog over the past several years, we have not always been able to give you full recordings of our newest releases. So this year, we have found a way to give you what you have asked for—FULL recordings of ALL of our 2011–2012 school choral publications.

In order to provide these recordings in their entirety, the single enclosed disc contains mp3 files instead of audio files.

Please note that this mp3 disc can be used with computers, most CD players, and most car stereos. Once copied onto your computer, these sound files can be imported into any mp3 player, such as an iPod.

Note: Some older model CD players and car stereos may not be able to read this mp3 data disc. In this case, you have permission to save these files onto your computer and use a program such as iTunes to burn a new audio CD, playable by your current CD player. This will require burning approximately 6 CDs.

At any time, you may also access these mp3 files at our website: alfred.com.

If for any reason you are not able to review these recordings or burn new audio CDs on your own and you wish to receive traditional audio CDs instead, please contact customerservice@alfred.com or give us a call at 818-892-2452.

Don’t miss ALFRED’S PIANOTRAX 3 CD

Greg Gilpin has carefully set this touching Victorian era poem in an uncomplicated choral style, allowing us to focus on the deep meaning of the text. Expressive, quality literature for today’s choirs. Poignant.

This heartfelt selection starts and ends softly, growing in the middle to proclaim “if the road should be unkind . . . take my hand, I’ll lead the way” just before unfolding into the most impassioned verse.

Accented rhythms, spine-tingling sonorities, and a riveting add-on section create drama in this sophisticated choral, appropriate for concert, festival, and adjudication. Highlight the vocal skills of your best ensemble. A thrilling, edge-of-your-seat experience!

Blind Man

Traditional Spiritual/arr. Tom Fettke

Slavery left scars on body and soul. Yet in many spirituals a sense of strength and resilience shines through. In this example, arranger Tom Fettke shows how the “Blind man” and “I” are one and the same. As the singer in the old spiritual cries out for direction, so do we. Our cry becomes the means for transformation—from despair, emotional brokenness and hopelessness, to confidence, wholeness, and hope.

SATB, a cappella (00-35081) ............. $2.05

Love

Words & music by Chris Tomlin, Jesse Reeves, Cary Pierce, Mike Finley, & Ed Cash/arr. Tom Fettke & Thomas Grassi

Love speaks for itself. It is ecumenical. We all need it—without it we are empty. It’s the language that speaks across all boundaries and lasts eternally. And this great African rhythm based arrangement fits easily into both church and school. Love simply works!
